WHEN: Friday, Sept. 16; 6 – 10 p.m.

WHERE: Smithsonian Jazz Cafe
National Museum of Natural History
10th Street and Constitution Avenue N.W.

The world-renowned Brazilian jazz group, Trio da Paz, will perform at the National Museum of Natural History's Smithsonian Jazz Cafe on Friday, Sept. 16, from 6 to 10 p.m. Featuring three of Brazil's most eminent musicians, Trio da Paz updates the infectious spirit of jazz-oriented Brazilian music. Formed in 1990 by guitarist Romero Lubambo, bassist Nilson Matta and drummer Duduka da Fonseca, the trio redefines Brazilian jazz with their harmonically adventurous interactions, daring improvisations and dazzling rhythms. All three are seasoned masters of jazz and Brazilian music with impressive resumes in Brazil, Europe and the United States.

The Trio da Paz concert is sponsored by the Latino Program of the Natural History Museum and will open Hispanic Heritage Month at the National Museum of Natural History.

The Smithsonian Jazz Cafe is located in the Atrium of the National Museum of Natural History at 10th Street and Constitution Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. The music program features a la carte dining and a cash bar. Admission is $10 and includes one complimentary cocktail or beverage. Children younger than 12 are admitted free.

Latin jazz is featured regularly at the Smithsonian Jazz Cafe. For more information visit the Web site at www.mnh.si.edu/jazz.
