

The Smithsonian Marine Station welcomes research scientists who wish to conduct studies at the Marine Station on a space-available basis. The following is a list of fees for laboratory space and use of Station equipment.

Smithsonian Marine Station at Fort Pierce Fees for 2018-2019

Tyson House lodging:

Smithsonian	$25/person/day	$125/person/week
Non-Smithsonian	$35/person/day	$175/person/week

Boats (non-Smithsonian):

2x 17' Carolina Skiffs (with operator and fuel)	$110/half day	$220/day
21' Carolina Skiff (with operator and fuel)	$110/half day	$220/day
21' Triumph (with operator and fuel)	$150/half day	$300/day
39' R/V SUNBURST (with 2 operators and fuel)	$400/half day	$800/day

Visiting scientists are responsible for providing their own expendable supplies and must, of course, adhere to the Marine Station's policies and procedures.

Laboratory services include shared use of the wet lab and histology lab, use of basic microscopes, and use of other Station equipment which is designated for general use. Potential visitors will find more specific information on SMS equipment on the Facilities page of this website. Please direct questions and visitor application requests to Head Scientist, Dr. Valerie Paul, at paul@si.edu